OHIO HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL COACHES ASSOCIATION

Dear OHSBCA Member,

1/20/11

Welcome to the 2011 OHSBCA State Coaches Clinic: "America's Game". The Ohio High School Baseball Coaches Association has become the 2nd largest high school coaches' association in the country. Coaches, national speakers, and vendors from all over the country feel that the Ohio High School Coaches Association Clinic is one of the best in the entire country. One of my favorite quotes comes from one of this year's clinicians; John Cohen from Mississippi St. John speaks all over the country at not only big national conventions, but small ones too. He said, "Looking forward to seeing you at the clinic. You guys are first class and run an incredible clinic." My hope is that you will feel the same after this weekend.

I would also like to take time to welcome you to the Hyatt Regency, "Downtown Columbus", and our home for the next few days. What an outstanding and first-class setting for one of the premiere high school coaches' clinics. Please feel free to let any of the OHSBCA Board members or I know if we can personally help or assist you in any way this weekend while here at the clinic, or throughout the year. We, the board, wish to be the best representation of all our members' coaches and their concerns.

This weekend's lineup consists of great speakers from all over the country. I thank each and everyone of you speakers for agreeing to come speak and promote this great game of baseball. I hope you take the opportunity to listen and gain some insight from these well-respected speakers. The key to any clinic is to pick up on "one thing" that makes the clinic worthwhile. I hope you find that "one thing" this weekend. "America's Game" is a great way for each of us to prepare and get excited about the upcoming season. The following coaches will be presenting this weekend:

Joe Jordano, Pitt
Butch Thompson, Mississippi St.
Larry Sudbrook, St. Bonaventure
John Cohen, Mississippi St.
Greg Beals, Ohio St.
Mike Birkbeck, Kent St.
Paul Hesse, Mt. Union
Grant Trenbeath, Arizona Diamondbacks
Tim Mead, Walsh
Russ Gladish, The Total Athlete
Guy Simmons, Richland College
Bret Butler, Pitt Bradford
Nick Wesihepl, Notre Dame College
Brian McGee, Lake Erie College

I would like to take this time to encourage you to check out our web site. Mike Yinger has done an outstanding job keeping this updated and very useful. The OHSBCA web site is: www.ohsbca.org.

Final two thoughts: I would like to take time to congratulate the Hall of Fame Class of 2011. What a tremendous accomplishment and honor for these first class gentlemen. Finally, special thanks to all of the board members before me that have been in my shoes, just following their example and lead has made this job easy to do. A special thanks to Rich Corvin, Jon Bennett, Dave Barrow, Ray Benjamin and most important, my family for allowing me to do this job.

In Baseball,
Jerry Hites, 2011 Clinic Director, OHSBCA 1ST Vice President

Excellence. Integrity. Passion.

Three words to describe one of the most successful all-time coaches at Pitt, 14th-year Pitt skipper, Joe Jordano. Hired by Steve Pederson to lead the Panthers on November 15, 1997, Jordano began a rebuilding project that has delivered an unprecedented amount of growth, productivity and success over the past 13 seasons. In 1997, the Panthers, only three years removed from a conference title, were slipping within the ranks of the powerful Big East Conference and were in need of a new direction and vision. Jordano stepped in and engineered an incredible turn-around in just one season as he molded the Panthers into a significant presence over the past 13 seasons. Pitt has won over 350 games, been nationally-ranked, sent numerous players to the professional ranks and established itself as a force in the highly-competitive Big East Conference during his tenure. In 2010, Jordano helped guide the Panthers to arguably the best season in program history, posting a 38-18 record, including an 18-9 mark in Big East play, the most wins ever during the conference season. Pitt had the nation's most dangerous lineup, finishing second in batting average (.363) and fifth in runs scored (9.5 per game) en route to shattering five team records and tying another. Each player in the starting lineup hit at least .320 while three batted over .400, the first time ever in Pitt history. The Panthers also earned their highest ranking (19th) by Collegiate Baseball and broke into the Baseball America rankings for the first time ever (24th) during the course of the year. Jordano was recognized for his team's success by being named as the inaugural Chuck Tanner Collegiate Manager of the Year. The accolades continued to pile on following the season as the Panthers had seven players receive All-Big East honors, including four All-Big East First Team members, both program bests. Three players were drafted, including junior third baseman Joe Leonard who was Pitt's highest draft pick in 25 years after he was selected in the third round by the Atlanta Braves. Leonard, named the 2010 Big East Player of the Year, earned All-America honors Louisville Slugger, Ping! Baseball and ABCA/Rawlings and was also named the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association District 1 Player of the Year. Jordano also earned his seventh-career coach of the year accolade after he was named the 2010 American Baseball Coaches Association East Region Coach of the Year. That was not the only honor for Jordano in 2010 as he was also inducted to the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame - Erie Metro Chapter on June 22. "Last season was very special," commented Jordano. "Not only our on-field accomplishments, but the unwavering commitment our team showed every day. Our level of expectation has been raised. This group has set a standard that we all look forward to reaching in the future and we are very excited to get started." Of course there is great excitement as we prepare to enter a new chapter of Pitt Baseball with the opening of the Petersen Sports Complex which includes a state-of-the-art baseball stadium. "The benefits of the new ballpark are already paying dividends. Our program signed one of its most heralded recruiting classes this past fall. These individuals will be a part of the exciting new venue with the first pitch scheduled for Opening Day 2011. We simply cannot wait." There have been many highlights over the past 13 years including a trip to the Big East Championship game in 2005. From 2002-2005, Jordano put together the best four-year winning stretch in the program's 97-year history, capturing a total of 143 wins, including 36, 36, 38 and 33 during the stretch. The 38 wins in 2004 and 2010 tied for the second-most victories in a single season. The 2004 season also saw the Panthers make a return visit to the Big East Championship in Somerset, N.J. The accolades were numerous. In addition to Jordano being named Big East Coach of the Year, P.J. Hiser was named Player of the Year, Nick Evangelista was named Co-Pitcher of the Year and Negrych was named Rookie of the Year. Both Hiser and Negrych garnered All-America honors. The Big East also named Ben Copeland, Tom Cashman and Bryan Spamer to the All-Conference squad. Over the course of Jordano's career, over 50 players have played professional baseball, in addition to 10 All-Americans and countless All-Conference and All-Region selections. Jordano's overall record of 649-428-2 (.602) ranks him among the top 50 active Division-I coaches. Jordano has earned the respect of some of the top collegiate coaches in the country. LSU Tigers Head Coach Paul Maineri states, "Joe Jordano is without a doubt one of the finest college baseball coaches in the country and a man I admire very much. He has done a remarkable job with the program at the University of Pittsburgh. While I was coaching at Notre Dame and in the Big East, I always enjoyed the competition with the Panthers because we knew Pitt would always be well prepared, play hard, and play with a great deal of enthusiasm. I always attributed this to the way Joe handled his team and the competitive fire that he possesses. It seemed his teams always took on his personality, as they played the game with a lot of confidence and had a lot of fun. We had some tough losses to Pitt through the years; however, every time we lost to them I walked away from the game feeling that Pitt deserved to win because they outplayed us." One of the top college programs in the country today is Vanderbilt University. Its head coach Tim Corbin is also a Jordano fan. "Very seldom do you come across a coach on the other side of the field that you truly respect, admire and like....Joe Jordano is that coach. He is a coach that can relate well with young people and get the very most out of them - that has been very apparent at Pittsburgh. Although he is a friend, I consider him one of the best baseball coaches in the country." "I am proud of what we have accomplished. However, our work is not nearly finished. My staff, players and I look forward to taking this program to the next level and continuing the building of a great baseball program that will be in place for a long time," Jordano states. That trend of rebuilding has been a trait of Jordano in his coaching career. His first position was at Mercyhurst College in Erie, Pa. The NCAA Division II School did not have a strong baseball tradition and Jordano inherited a team that had won only nine games the previous season. However, the success began immediately for Jordano and did not stop for 10 consecutive seasons. During his 10-year reign on the Hill, Jordano's numbers speak for themselves: 283 wins against only 118 losses; six post-season appearances; two conference championships in his two years in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference; 30 All-Region players; four All-Americans; and several players in professional baseball. Upon leaving Mercyhurst, Coach Jordano was the winningest coach in Mercyhurst College history and was ranked sixth all-time active winningest coaches in the D-II baseball history at the time of his departure. On May 17, 2009, Jordano was inducted into the Mercyhurst College Hall of Fame.

Jordano was also named the GLIAC Coach of the Year twice and was the Louisville Slugger NCAA DII Independent Coach of the year in 1995. In his last four years at Mercyhurst, Jordano's teams finished with a gaudy 128-31 record with four consecutive NCAA regional appearances. During his stay, Jordano also served on the NCAA DII National Baseball Committee and served as a chairman of the North Central Baseball Region. While at the University of Pittsburgh, Jordano has served on the NCAA Regional Advisory Committee as well as President of the Big East Coaches group for four years, 2000-04. This past year, Jordano was elected again to serve as President of the Big East Coaches group and currently is Chair of the American Baseball Coaches Association College Playing Rules Committee. Jordano has been honored by groups over the past several years for his contributions to baseball. In 2003, he was named "Baseball Man of the Year" in Erie, Pa. - his hometown, for "appreciation for his lifetime support and devotion to baseball on the local and collegiate levels." Following the 2004 season and the Big East Coach of the Year award, Jordano was recognized by the Team Pittsburgh Group of Erie and was also awarded an Honorary Lifetime membership to the San Francisco Bay Area Pitt Club. Academically, Jordano has been extremely successful graduating his players. Since 1998, 94 percent of his players who have completed their eligibility have earned a University of Pittsburgh Degree. The Panthers have garnered 36 All Big East Academic Awards as well as the Most Improved Team GPA in 2008. Jordano emphasizes this importance from the outset. "Our commitment to Academic Excellence occurs in the first few minutes of meeting with a prospective baseball player. The nucleus of what we do is to educate. Along with the World-Class degree from the University of Pittsburgh, our players have the opportunity to participate in one of the best, most productive baseball programs in the East." The future is bright for the Panthers under Jordano's leadership. "I very much look forward to being a part of this program for quite some time. I have a deep passion for the University and its leadership. Chancellor Nordenberg and Mr. Pedersen have given our entire athletic program an opportunity to be the best we can possibly be, both in the competitive arena as well as in the classroom. This is a special place." Jordano received his bachelor's degree from Westminster College, where he was a stellar four-year letter-winner and All-District performer in baseball for the Titans. He also obtained his master's degree in athletic administration from Slippery Rock University. Jordano resides in Cranberry Township with his wife, Michell, and sons Matthew (12) and Joseph (11), daughter Sophia (3) and his faithful golden retriever, Babe.

BUTCH THOMPSON

Assistant Baseball Coach, Mississippi St. University

Thursday 6:55 PM - "Controlling the Running Game & Throwing to Location" (Regency Ballroom)

Butch Thompson, a native of Amory, Miss., is in his second year on coach John Cohen's Mississippi State baseball coaching staff.

Thompson, in his ninth season of coaching in the Southeastern Conference, coaches Mississippi State pitchers and works closely with recruiting. He joined the MSU coaching staff in June 2008 after having coached the previous three seasons at Auburn.

One of his first pitching pupils at Mississippi State, rookie left-hander Nick Routt, earned freshman All-American and SEC All-Freshman honors after leading the 2009 Bulldog pitching staff in wins, strikeouts and innings pitched. The 18-year coaching veteran is regarded as one of the nation's top pitching instructors. He has a strong familiarity with baseball in the state of Mississippi.

Thompson prepped at Amory (Miss.) High School and later starred as a pitcher at ICC for coach Roy Cresap in 1989 and 1990.

He continued his baseball career the next two seasons at NAIA power Birmingham-Southern, where he helped lead the Panthers, coached by for-mer Mississippi State assistant Brian Shoop, to back-to-back Southern States Conference championships. Daron Schoenrock, who would later serve as an assistant coach at State, coached the pitchers on Shoop's BSC staff.

It would be the first of Thompson's three career affiliations with Shoop and the Panthers baseball program in Birmingham. He launched his coaching career as pitching coach and top assistant to Scot Patterson at Huntingdon College in Montgomery, Ala., then returned to his alma mater, where as an assistant coach he was reunited on the BSC staff with Shoop and Schoenrock from 1994 to 1996. During that span the Panthers won a pair of conference crowns and in 1995 advanced to its first NAIA World Series berth.

Thompson left BSC briefly to serve as head baseball coach at Jefferson State Community College in Birmingham in 1997. While at JSCC he was honored as the Regional Tournament Coach of the Year, the ABCA Alabama Junior College Coach of the Year and the Southeast Region Coach of the Year after guiding JSCC to a 39-21 mark, the AJCAA Region 22 State Championship and a third-place finish in the NJCAA Division II World Series.

He returned to Birmingham-Southern as Shoop's top assistant the following season, beginning a four-year run during the most successful span in BSC baseball history. The Panthers won 196 games and four TranSouth Conference championships and made three consecutive appearances in the NAIA World Series. BSC's 2001 team posted a school-best 55-11 mark and captured the NAIA National Championship.

In 2002 Thompson joined the Southeastern Conference baseball coaching family, beginning a four-year term as pitching coach and recruiting coordinator at the University of Georgia under head coach David Perno. Georgia's 2003 recruiting class was ranked 10th nationally and UGA won the 2004 SEC title and advanced to the NCAA College World Series. He continued his SEC affiliation at Auburn following the 2005 season, serving as pitching coach and recruiting coordinator on the staff of Tom Slater. Each of his three recruiting classes at Auburn was ranked among the nation's top 18, including a No. 5 national ranking in 2007.

In eight seasons as a pitching coach in the SEC (since 2001), Thompson has coached 21 pitchers that have been selected in the Major League Baseball draft.

Thompson, honored as the 2006 Fellowship of Christian Athletes SEC Coach of the Year, has shared his expertise as a featured speaker at numerous baseball coaching clinics throughout the Southeast.

He earned a bachelor's degree in history at BSC in 1992 and completed a master's degree in sports administration at UAB in 1996. He is married to the former Robin Ashe of Birmingham, Ala., and they are the parents of three daughters --- Anna, 11, Olivia, 9, and Madelyn Gail, 5

WHAT DOES COMMAND DO FOR A PITCHER?
Controlling the Running Game & Throwing to Location
Butch Thompson Assistant Baseball Coach, Mississippi St. University
Thursday 6:55 (Regency Ballroom)

- Health (20 pitches per inning) (last year our freshmen averaged 24.9 pitches per inning) (creates efficiency without begging for it)
- Confidence (comes from skill acquisition – skills to develop command)(focus stats)
- Fewer Coaches (keeps things simple)
- Allows you to PLAY (others have confidence in you – skill gets you here, command creates opportunities)
- The Count is everything (mlb, our ahead behind and early) (puppet or puppeteer) (focus statistics – first pitch strikes, 3 ball counts, whip, ahead-behind-early)(come up with your own)
- Defensive engagement (want you on the field)
- Softens contact (hard, soft, swing and miss. Once command is achieved that's the green light goal)
- Allows you to throw a BALL (or a pitch out, expansion)
- It makes the plate larger (smaller misses gets more calls and swings)
- Reduces Big Innings (87% of big innings involve a walk, hbp or error)(big inning defined as 3 or more runs)
- Focus on the situation (instead of mechanics – hitter – what's important now)

A blend of talent, experience and a blue-collar work ethic makes LARRY SUDBROOK one of the most successful and respected head coaches in the Atlantic 10 Conference.

Sudbrook's main goals each year for his program remain unchanged: provide his student-athletes with the best possible experience and field teams that challenge for the Atlantic 10 championship. Over his 25 seasons at St. Bonaventure, Sudbrook has built a program which consistently meets those goals.

A two-time A-10 Coach of the Year recipient, Sudbrook has accumulated 546 wins over his illustrious coaching career, making him far and away St. Bonaventure's all-time winningest coach. Win No. 500 was extra special for Sudbrook, as his youngest son Cory picked up the save in the Bonnies 4-2 win over La Salle on May 5, 2008.

Overall, Sudbrook has led the Bonnies to 17 winning seasons, eight berths in the Atlantic 10 Tournament, two Atlantic 10 East division championships and an A-10 Tournament title in 2004. St. Bonaventure finished third or better in the East in eight of the 10 years in which the A-10 played with two divisions and the Bonnies are just one of three teams in the conference to advance to the postseason tournament in at least four of the last seven years.

The start of the 2010 season marked an end of a decade in which the Bonnies were one of the conference's premiere teams under Sudbrook. St. Bonaventure accumulated 264 wins over the 10-year span, including 10 consecutive years of 20 or more wins and eight winning seasons. The program's seven winning seasons in A-10 regular season play were the second-most in the league, while their six A-10 postseason appearances ranked third among the conference's 14 teams.

From 2006-08, Sudbrook guided St. Bonaventure to three-year program records of 83 wins and 47 Atlantic 10 victories. The Brown and White advanced to the A-10 Tournament in each of those three seasons, making them one of just three A-10 teams to accomplish the feat.

In 2006 and 2007, senior Brian Pellegrini became only the second player in conference history to capture consecutive Atlantic 10 Player of the Year honors. Over his career, Pellegrini set four program single-season records and six career records. Thanks to his development during his four years under Sudbrook, the Willoughby, Ohio native became the first All-American in program history and was selected in the 12th Round of the Major League Baseball Draft by the Houston Astros.

Sudbrook's remarkable run of achievements continued in the 2006 campaign. After he led the Bonnies to a school record 18 Atlantic 10 wins (18-8) and a second place finish in the first year of the 14-team conference, Sudbrook was voted the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year by his peers. The Bonnies finished 29-21 overall and were runners-up in the A-10 Tournament. The year was not without adversity, though, as Sudbrook's club had to overcome the loss of two of its top starting pitchers, Brian Pellegrini and Mike Proctor. Pellegrini, however, was able to play in the field and put together another amazing season that was capped by A-10 Player of the Year honors. Pellegrini, Joe Rizzo, Matt Agostinelli and John Zinnicker were all named to the All-Conference team while John Zinnicker was later drafted by the Toronto Blue Jays.

The 2004 season was the most successful year in school history. Sudbrook guided a young Bona club to the school's first Atlantic 10 Championship and first NCAA Tournament berth. Seeded fourth out of six teams in the A-10 Championship, the Bonnies rattled off four consecutive victories, including a pair over top-seeded Rhode Island. The finale was a 3-2 decision over Rhode Island in the championship game. St. Bonaventure went on to play No. 3 Miami to a hard-fought 6-3 decision on the Hurricanes' home field in the NCAA Regionals. Even while playing as many as four freshmen in the starting lineup, the Bonnies finished 29-22 overall and 14-7 clip in the A-10. Among the players Sudbrook helped develop were All-Conference shortstop Eric Wilson, who graduated in 2004, and outfielder/pitcher Brian Pellegrini, who was named a Louisville Slugger Freshman All-American by Collegiate Baseball, as well as a second team All-Conference choice.

In 2002, Sudbrook guided St. Bonaventure to the A-10 East crown and a school record 30 overall wins and a then-record 16 conference victories. Three of his players, outfielder Mike Rapacioli, pitcher Kyle Johnson and infielder Mike Sedor, were named to the All-Conference team.

Sudbrook was named Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year in 2000 after leading the Bonnies to their first A-10 East Division Championship and 13 conference wins. The Bonnies also qualified for the A-10 Tournament in 1994 and 1995.

Individual player development has also been a staple in Sudbrook's coaching resume. Over his 25 seasons as skipper, 14 St. Bona players have moved on to the professional level, including nine players that were selected in the MLB Draft. Most recently was shortstop Jesse Bosnik, who the Los Angeles Dodgers drafted in the 13th round in June. Sudbrook has developed 29 All-Conference players, three Freshman All-Americans, two NCAA statistical champions, two A-10 Player of the Years, an A-10 Pitcher of the Year and 19 A-10 statistical leaders.

Sudbrook's players also achieve off the field, as the Brown and White have placed a student-athlete on the A-10 Academic All-Conference team in 20 of the 26 years of the teams existence for a total of 33. In 2008, senior Randy Moley became just the second player in A-10 history to win the conference Student-Athlete of the Year award in back-to-back seasons ('07 & '08). Moley was also a three-time ESPN The Magazine All-District honoree and in 2008 culminated things by making the Academic All-America first team. In 2000, junior shortstop Mark Evers and senior outfielder Jason Milleisen were named GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-Americans – the first in program history. Shortstop Eric Wilson was named to the Academic All-District team in 2002, 2003 and 2004.

Prior to coming to St. Bonaventure, Sudbrook guided Fairport (Ohio) High School to four sectional titles in five seasons. As a player, he was a two-year letterman at Lakeland (Ohio) Community College before graduating from Kent State University.

Sudbrook and his wife, Beverly, have two sons, Shane and Cory. Shane was a four-year letter-winner at St. Bonaventure and followed his father's footsteps as an assistant coach for three seasons. Cory completed his fourth season in a Bonnies' uniform this past year and now joins his father on the bench as an assistant coach.

THE NEXT BIG THING

The breakthrough in batting practice. The two-out hit with runners in scoring position. The late-season, walk-off reception at home plate. These moments are big, too big to leave anything to chance. An inferior bat just won't do.

Friday 9:00 AM “Hitting Drills” (Regency Ballroom)

John Cohen, regarded by many as one of college baseball's top offensive tacticians, is in his second year as head baseball coach at Mississippi State University. He was introduced as MSU's 16th head baseball June 7, 2008, exactly 18 years to the day after leaving Omaha, Neb., and the 1990 NCAA College World Series following his final game as a Mississippi State player.

Cohen's return to Starkville, Miss., and Dudy Noble Field in 2009 completed a success-filled and fast-paced circle that began when the Tuscaloosa, Ala., native first joined the Baseball Bulldog family as a player in 1987.

He returned to Mississippi State seasoned with 17 years of collegiate coaching experience, nine years as a collegiate head coach, the previous five as head coach at Southeastern Conference Eastern Division rival Kentucky.

The Bulldog skipper, an All-Southeastern Conference outfielder during his playing career at Mississippi State, sports a 346-226-1 coaching mark (.605) entering his 11th season as a collegiate head coach in 2010.

In his previous coaching assignments at Missouri (1992-97), Northwestern (La.) State (1998-2001), Florida (2002-03) and Kentucky (2004-08), Cohen has been associated with teams that piled up 555 wins and earned five NCAA postseason advancements.

His prowess as one of the nation's top young hitting instructors has mounted with each step along the way in his coaching career. But It took on national proportions in 2006 when, in his third season at Kentucky, he guided the Wildcats to a remarkable worst-to-first finish in the rugged South-eastern Conference.

Continuing a trademark that has grown during his coaching career, Cohen is a highly sought-after featured speaker and clinician. He has criss-crossed the nation sharing his expertise at baseball clinics in 30 states, most recently at the annual 2010 American Baseball Coaches Association Convention held this January in Dallas, Tex.

And since arriving at Mississippi State, Cohen has maintained a full schedule of speaking engagements at alumni gatherings, civic organization meetings and at baseball banquets on a variety of levels throughout the Magnolia State and beyond. Cohen, 43, is married to the former Nelle Bashinsky, also from Tuscaloosa, Ala., and they have two daughters - Jordan Baker and Avery Lawson.

GREG BEALS

Head Baseball Coach, The Ohio State University

Thursday 9:40 PM “Hitting Mechanics” (Regency Ballroom)

COLUMBUS, Ohio – Somewhat stunned and speechless for a few moments: that was the reaction of the search committee with a charge of recommending a new baseball coach at The Ohio State University after Greg Beals introduced himself to the group. He spoke of families, including his personal family, his Athletics Department family and the family of young men he has developed as the head coach at Ball State University. He also spoke of his career in the sport as a player and coach, and his strong desire – no, make that passion – to be the next baseball coach of the oldest sport at Ohio State. The committee of Ohio State administrators plus senior baseball players Tyler Engle and Dean Wolosiansky then proceeded to learn much more about this Springfield, Ohio native who has bachelor’s (1995; human movement studies) and master’s (1999; sports administration) degrees from Kent State University. And it not only liked what it heard from Beals, but it liked the sincerity of his delivery, his enthusiasm for engaging various audiences – the surrounding community, alumni, the University as a whole and potential recruits – and his goal of taking Ohio State back to the College World Series. Beals, head coach the past eight years at Ball State and who led the school to three MAC West Division titles and the first MAC Tournament crown in school history, was named today to lead the Ohio State baseball program. He becomes just the third head baseball coach at Ohio State in the last 48 years and the 11th in 127 years of baseball at one of the nation’s most comprehensive universities.

“I can not tell you how excited I am about this opportunity,” Beals said. “I look forward to donning the Ohio State Block ‘O’ cap and representing The Ohio State University. I have surrounded myself with great people – administrators, coaches and student-athletes – that I will be forever grateful to. Now I join an Athletics Department that embraces the motto ‘You Win with People.’” Ohio State Associate Athletics Director Chris Schneider, the sport administrator for the program, announced the hiring. “Coach Beals has all the attributes we were looking for in a head coach,” Schneider said. “He has achieved success as a head coach, he is a proven recruiter, he is a developer of talent and he is extremely passionate about developing student-athletes in all aspects of their lives. “Plus, head coach at Ohio State was a dream position for him and his deeds supported that fact: he accepted the position on the spot when we offered it Wednesday evening. He did not need to give it any more thought.”

Beals, named “best game coach” in the MAC in 2009 by Collegebaseballinsider.com, led Ball State to a 243-202 record in his eight seasons as coach with three seasons of 36-or-more victories. After setting the school record for a first-year coach with 36 wins in 2003, Beals led the Cardinals to consecutive 38-win seasons, including an NCAA Regional appearance in 2006 – Ball State’s first NCAA Regional since 1969 – in addition to MAC West Division crowns in 2003, 2005 and 2009. His 2006 team knocked off top-seed Kentucky in the NCAA Lexington Regional for, perhaps, the school’s greatest victory on the diamond. His teams were 2-2 vs. Ohio State. His abilities as a recruiter – in terms of finding and then developing talent – have yielded most impressive results. He has watched 21 of his Ball State players get selected in the Major League Baseball First Year Player Draft, including four players in 2006 and three players in both 2009 and 2010.

Beals has been a collegiate coach for 17 years. Prior to his position at Ball State, he was an assistant coach for nine seasons at his alma mater, Kent State. He was a part of three Golden Flash teams to make an NCAA Regional – 1994, 2001 and 2002 – and three that won MAC championships. He also worked with 21 players who would sign professional contracts and 17 who would be named to the MAC all-academic team.

Beals, who spent three seasons in the New York Mets’ farm system after his playing career at Kent State, attended Kenton Ridge High School in Springfield, Ohio, where he played baseball under Coach Tom Randall, a member of the Ohio High School Baseball Coaches’ Association Hall of Fame.

Beals and his wife Kathy, a four-year basketball letterwinner at Kent State, have three daughters: Kayla, Amber and Morgan. “Kathy, the girls and I look forward to getting entrenched in the University and the Columbus community,” Beals said.

Paul Hesse enters his 15th season as head baseball coach at Mount Union. Three years ago, Hesse’s Purple Raiders tied the school record for Ohio Athletic Conference wins in a season and made the four-team OAC Tournament.

Since taking over in 1997, Hesse has posted a career record of 267-258-3 (.509), placing him second in wins, games coached (528) and winning percentage behind only long-time Raider head coach Jack Rafeld. Hesse is one of only 11 coaches in the history of the OAC to have won more than 200 games.

During Hesse’s tenure, seven school records have been either tied or broken. In 1999, the Raiders set season records in team batting average (.357), hits (503) and runs (384). They also set a school record for fielding percentage (.963). In 2000, more team records were set, including home runs (33) and stolen bases (86). The school mark of 23 wins, set in 1991, was tied in 2000 and again in Mount Union’s 2006 run to the OAC Tournament. Since the OAC went to the current four-team playoff format in 1985, the Raiders have made nine appearances. As head coach, Hesse has led the Raiders to appearances in 1997-99, 2002 and 2006 with championship game appearances in 1999 and 2002. During the Raiders’ three-year tournament run from 1993-95, Hesse served as an assistant coach under Bill Ek.

Hesse began his coaching career during the summer of 1971 with the Suffield Warriors in the Portage County League. He continued his coaching career at various levels throughout the Akron, Canton and Alliance areas until the summer of 1996 when he took over the Raiders. He was active at his alma mater, Field High School, where he worked as an assistant from 1972-78 and head coach from 1981-83.

In addition to coaching, Hesse is involved with many organizations in the collegiate ranks. He currently represents the Mid-East Region on the American Baseball Coaches Association Division III All-American & the Coach of the Year Committee (2001-08). He has served as the national chair since 2002. Hesse has also served as a high school basketball official for 21 years with the Ohio High School Basketball Officials Association. In the summer of 2007, Hesse was inducted into the Greater Akron Baseball Hall of Fame in recognition for his 38 years of coaching and contributions to the high school summer league and collegiate programs.

Hesse earned a bachelor’s degree in education in 1982 and received a master’s degree in sport administration with a collegiate focus in 1986 from Kent State University. In addition to coaching baseball, Hesse serves as Mount Union’s assistant to the athletic director as well as a class lecturer. He is a native of Suffield, Ohio and currently resides in Alliance.

TIM MEAD

Head Baseball Coach, Walsh University

Walsh alumnus ('81) Tim Mead begins his 27th season as the Cavs' field general. The all-time leader in victories (557), Mead guided the 2009 Cavs to a 20-26 finish. In 2007, he led Walsh to 29 wins and their first trip to the NAIA World Series. After a 9-7 regular season finish in the AMC North, Walsh stormed their way through the NAIA Region IX Tournament, then hosted, and won the East Coast Super Regional to earn the World Series berth. At the series, the Cavs won their first game before being eliminated by Houston Baptist. In 2005, Mead led Walsh to the AMC North title and was named AMC North and Region IX Coach of the Year. He had previously directed Walsh to a school record 36 wins and the American Midwest Conference regular season championship in 2000, and was selected AMC and NAIA Region IX Coach of the Year. Mead also directed Walsh to the Mid-Ohio Conference title in 1991 and was named District 22 Coach of the Year. Walsh reached its only District 22 title game that year, and won a then school record 29 games. Mead's 1996 team also won 29 games and reached the MOC semifinals. Under Mead, the Cavs have qualified for post season play in 16 of the last 19 seasons.

In 2002, Tim served on the staff of the NAIA team that toured Czechoslovakia as an assistant to Sam Riggleman. He was inducted into the Greater Stark County Amateur Baseball Hall of Fame in 2001. In 2005, he concluded a seven-year term as an officer of the NAIA Baseball Coaches Association. In May 2006 he was inducted into the Allegany County (NY) Athletic Association Hall of Fame. The past two years, Tim has been selected to coach the Ohio High School Select team this June in Honolulu, at the King Kamehameha Baseball Classic. The Cavs' first class facilities are a direct result of Mead's fund raising efforts. The diamond features a new scoreboard, batting cage, press box and brand new dugouts.

A native of Andover, NY, Mead built a solid reputation on the field, earning letters in both soccer and baseball. Mead continued his excellence after enrolling at Walsh. He was a three-time All-MOC selection in soccer and was twice named All-District 22. The Cavs' Captain also received All-Ohio and Area IV honors. Mead was a pitcher on the diamond and was elected to the Walsh Wall of Fame in 1983.

Coaching Accomplishments

2010 Northeast Ohio "Coach of the Year"
2010 ABCA Northern Region "Coach of the Year"

2010 Season Highlights

The St. Edward Eagles won their last (25) games and a second Division I State title in three years. With all the pre season hype from seniors Stetson Allie, Alex Lavisky, and Ross Kivett the eagles lived up to their billing. This team was one that continued to get better throughout the season and stayed healthy. Even with its star power this team accomplished all its goals with a relatively young lineup. The eagles will be returning (6) starters and a solid pitching corp for the 2011 season.

I certainly would like to thank our principal Gene Boyer, president Brother Peter, and athletic director Paul Michalko for their continual support of our baseball program over the past three years.

My wife (Kim) of 28 years, daughters Brittani, Ashytn and sons Logan and Stetson – "thank you". Special thanks to "Happy" Dobbs and Nicole in the athletic office for all their support.

Season Summary:

Winning a state championship is a lifelong dream of every coach and player that has ever put on a uniform. Now that it's happen to us words can't describe how great of a feeling it is and how much it means to everyone involved with our program. The 2010 Jonathan Alder baseball team was made up of 18 competitors that dreamed of baseball greatness and "BELIEVED" that it could happen. As a coach or athlete you always strive to be recognized as the best in your sport. On June 6th 2010 we not only became the best but we achieved perfection, 34-0.

As any coach knows, you need to have talented players in order to be successful. Our 2010 team was full of talented players top to bottom that received numerous postseason honors. C Jacob Mahon, P Tyler Miller and CF Sean Fleming were all selected 1st team All-Ohio and 1st team All-Central District. P Zach Maynard and 3B Graham Johnston were selected 2nd team All-Central District. SS Tyler Graber and 2B Nate Squires were selected Honorable Mention All-Central District. RF Nick Squires and 1B Vince Graber were selected 1st team All-Madison County.

I learned early in my coaching career to have a successful program you need to surround yourself with great people. I am truly blessed to have the finest group of assistant coaches in Jason Comer, Josh Tomlinson, Brett Glass, C.J. Williams, Mitch Koester and Seth Tenpenny. I thank them all for being such great friends, baseball minds, teachers and role models for the young men in our program. Without them we wouldn't have been able to reach the pinnacle of high school baseball this year.

Again I want to thank all my players and assistant coaches for making this dream season become a reality. Many people have asked me how winning a state championship and going undefeated was possible. I always give them the same simple but powerful answer "WE BELIEVED!"

Winning a state title was truly an unbelievable experience. I was blessed with a group of kids that, since they were young, worked hard to achieve this goal. Many thanks go to the parents, coaches, fans, wives, and players that made this such an unbelievable season.. I can truly say the kids worked hard to get better every day and bought in to the team concept. This was a very special group of boys that acted as a family from day one.

I was fortunate enough to surround myself with many individuals that I trusted and learned from every day. Assistant coaches Shawn Ramion, Mike Longshore, Chris Krupa, and Glenn Weirich were all a huge part of everyday decisions and helping to make sure things were in place for a successful season. My philosophy has always been to surround myself with people that are knowledgeable and that I can learn from. Many thanks to everyone associated with Clear Fork Baseball and for your continued support. Also, I want to give a big thanks to Rusty Staab for the use of his indoor baseball facility, Hittsville. Last, thanks to the 13 guys that put aside personal agendas and focused on baseball, every single day, throughout the season. Your work ethic and dedication serve as an example to future colts.

Division IV: Head Coach – Bill Sturwold, Ft. Loramie (30-3)

Years coached: 18

State Championships 2

League Championships 11
30 Wins (school record)

There are no words that can adequately describe the thrill of winning a state championship. I was blessed to have the opportunity to be a part of a special group of players and coaches who were able to realize that dream. The 2010 Ft. Loramie Redskins baseball team is a testament to never selling yourself short, concentrating on what you can control, keeping perspective, and sacrificing personal goals for team success. Seniors Zach Eilerman, Mitch Raterman, Jake Boerger, and Brad Frilling all played with a calm confidence which was passed down to them from previous Ft. Loramie teams. Most notably the 2007 STATE CHAMPS.

I would like to thank my players, assistant coaches Mike Schieltz, Kevin Philpot, Nathan Bornhorst, Supt. Dan Holland, Principal David Worrel, A.D. Chad Wells, the town of Ft. Loramie and most of all my wife Carrie and son Troy. June 5, 2010 was a great day to be a Ft. Loramie Redskin.

Simmons turned the FPC baseball program around. In 2003, the Plainsmen went 31-20, the best record in school history. During his tenure the Plainsmen had two 30 plus win seasons and never less than 22 wins. Coach Simmons had 11 players drafted and more Division I signees than any other conference school. Every one of his players that graduated moved on to play at the next level.

Coach Simmons was a championship-winning Louisiana High School coach before taking over the Plainsmen program.

Coach Simmons earned both a bachelor's degree and a Master's in Education at Northwestern State University before launching his coaching career at Forrest Hill Academy. He moved on to Bolton High School before settling in at Westlake High School. In his first year at Westlake, Coach Simmons led his team to a district title, and he would go on to take his team to the playoffs in each season of his 12-year tenure. Westlake compiled a 215-109 record under Simmons, capped by a Louisiana state title in 1996. His overall coaching record is 484-412 and he looks forward to his 500th coaching victory during the 2011 Spring Season.

Coach Simmons is the author of two nationally sold videos by Coaches Choice Videos; Pitching “A Mechanical Approach to Developing Control” and Hitting “The 6 Ball Theory” He is also a highly sought-after clinic speaker.

BRIAN McGEE

Head Baseball Coach, Lake Erie College

Saturday 11:00 AM – “Outfield Drills” (Union A & B)

Brian McGee is entering his fourth season as the Lake Erie College head baseball coach after being taking over the position in October 2007. In just three seasons, McGee has built a competitive program as his squads have improved significantly on the field, while undergoing the difficult transition from Division III to current active D-II status, and rewritten the school record books in the process.

Prior to his arrival, Lake Erie had never finished higher than seventh in the Allegheny Mountain Collegiate Conference (AMCC), but in his first year the Storm finished third in the league and won a school single-season record 17 games. The 10 AMCC wins were the most during the College's six years of AMCC membership. All told, the team set 20 school records and finished the season ranked in the top 100 among all NCAA Division III teams in five statistical categories, most notably home runs (25th), slugging percentage (40th) and batting average (89th).

That team earned its first postseason bid, advancing to the AMCC Tournament semifinals. McGee's players earned more conference accolades that season than in any prior year, while receiving Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) All-Star and American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) Rawlings all-region team honors for the first time in program history.

Moving up a level and competing as an independent provisional Division II team in 2009, McGee's squad just missed the 2008 team's win total, finishing with 16 wins and set or tied 41 different school records. Fielding a roster of primarily first-year players, McGee's charges overcame a slow start to play .500 over the second half of the season, including an 8-1 stretch that featured wins over Top-30 team Slippery Rock and regional foe Gannon.

In 2010, the Storm won a record 18 games and had two players - Ryan Rua and Brandon James - earn all-region second-team honors. The high point of the season came on March 28 when Lake Erie defeated Division I Cleveland State 19-4 on the Vikings home field.

Prior to coming to Lake Erie, McGee was the assistant varsity and head junior varsity coach at Greensboro College from 2003-07. He coached third base and instructed the Pride infield, leading that group to its best statistical performances in the program's history. In 2006, the Greensboro infield finished 12th in the nation in fielding percentage. McGee also served as the assistant director and facility manager for Greensboro's student recreation center.

His additional coaching experience includes serving as the head coach of the Lake Erie Monarchs of the Great Lakes League in the summer of 2006 and as an assistant for the Wilmington Sharks of the Coastal Plain League in the summer of 2004.

A native of Lorain, Ohio, McGee's coaching career began at Toledo St. Frances High School as a varsity assistant in the spring of 2001. The following year he served as assistant at the University of Toledo before getting his first head coaching job came at Lorain Catholic High School in the spring of 2003, where he led the team to its first regional appearance in over a decade and was named Lorain County Coach of the Year.

McGee is a 1996 graduate of Amherst Marion L. Steele High School and a 2000 graduate of Tiffin University, where he was a four-year letter winner and team captain for the Dragons. He earned his bachelor's degree in sports management from Tiffin before earning a master's degree in recreation and leisure studies from the University of Toledo in 2002.

Outfield Drills

Brian McGee, Head Baseball Coach, Lake Erie College
Saturday 11:00 AM – (Union A & B)

Introduction

Before implementing any drill you must identify the needs of the TEAM/INDIVIDUAL and how you can best enhance that specific skill.

Breakdown what makes a good defensive Outfielder?

1. Athletic Ability
 - a. Arm Strength
 - b. Speed and Quickness
 - c. Coordination; “ability to make plays/catch the ball”
2. Baseball IQ and Instincts
 - a. Routes and Angles to the Ball
 - b. Knowing the Hitters Tendencies
 - c. Positioning and Awareness
 - d. Communication is Key

Where is the team or individual making mistakes?

Focus on what needs to be emphasized for that specific drill; “one thing at a time”

Use game like situations by building pressure, putting something on the line, etc.

Drills: (drills we have used to develop both the mental and physical skills)

We like to build a competitive game like atmosphere, intensity, etc.*

1. Long Toss – arm strength and throwing program for outfielders
2. Agility Drills – footwork, quickness, speed, and coordination
3. Everyday Skill Drills – basic drills for mechanics and fundamentals
4. Live Batting Practice Drill – routes and angles
(w/infield)
5. Tween'er Drills – communication, positioning
6. Live Situations – baseball I.Q., skill set
7. Any Moment Drill – pressure situation/confidence
8. OF Concentration Drill – encompasses everything

State Coaches Poll 2011

(Please Read and Save)

Five times during the course of the season the voting coaches of the state coaches poll rank the teams in each of the four divisions and select an All-Ohio team. This is a recognition of OHSBCA members, their teams and their players. Numbers of voters for each district are selected based upon membership in our state organization.

The voting coaches are scattered throughout the state so that it is the responsibility of each school's coach to promote his team and its players by contacting these voters.

2. Coaches must be a member of the OHSBCA to vote.
3. Coaches are selected by their district representatives upon completing a voting application.
4. Any head coach who is interested in voting must complete an application and return it to the Poll Director or to his district representative. Applications are available from the State Coaches Poll Director, or on line at www.ohsbca.org starting in May each year.
5. The number of coaches voting in a district will vary, determined by the number of OHSBCA member coaches in their respective district.
6. Coaches selected to vote will be notified at the state clinic and their names and emails, with hyperlinks will be published on the website. (www.ohsbca.org under Poll Teams/ Voters
7. The Poll will be conducted for 5 consecutive weeks; ballots to be sent on April 14, 21, 28, May 5, and 12. All voters are being asked to vote online for the 2009 season.
8. Poll results will be submitted to our website at www.ohsbca.org beginning April 19.
9. Coaches selected to vote will receive information on the voting procedures during the last week in March. If you are listed as a voter and have not been contacted by March 31, email me so that we may correct the problem.

A-Screen™ by Morrow Sports

The A-Screen™ combines high-quality materials with an innovative, patented design to bring you a durable, portable and easy-to-use protective pitching screen.

This revolutionary design provides complete protection for the pitcher, eliminating the exposed shoulder and torso of the traditional pitching screen.

Manufactured using 16-gauge galvanized steel tubing and #36 diamond nylon netting for maximum protection and durability.

Easy and Portable

The A-Screen™ sets up in less than a minute with one person and no tools.

It weighs only 32lbs and packs into a durable, 48in long nylon bag that is easy to carry and fits in your car.

Money-Back Guarantee

We are so confident you'll love the A-Screen™, that we offer a money-back guarantee within 30 days of purchase.

Solid Warranty

We stand by our products, which is why we offer an unconditional 5-year warranty on the frame and a 2-year warranty on the net.

If you have a problem, just send us the part and we'll send you a free replacement.
